Section length: 8,5 km Allow: 2 h30mn Height difference: + 65m / - 46m Difficulty: Easy

This section of the route follows the red and white waymarking of the GR 652 almost all the stage

But during about 200m from the start the waymarking are red and green

Agén is located 57 from Moissac by car.

SNCF rail link between Agén and Moissac.

Depart from Agén railway station, where you can park.

Climb the metal ramp adjacent to the station which leads to the old footbridge across the train lines. Cross the bridge. Immediately in front of you is a pedestrian crossing. Go over it and turn left. A few paces further on turn right onto a narrow road bridge crossing the canal.

Turn left (here you join the GR652 and the waymarking become red and white until Roquefort).

Walk along the canal footpath, soon passing under a road bridge. (Soon after, you will see below you on the right a beautifully restored old pumphouse, now the Café Velo). Here the path leads on to the elegant pont-canal, which crosses the valley below. Halfway along you cross over the magnificent River Garonne.

Leaving the pont-canal you pass a lock. Continue along the well-maintained canal path, always keeping the canal to your left. When you come to a road, cross it and continue straight on along the canal.

When you come to a crossroads, turn left to cross the bridge over the canal. Immediately turn right, so the canal is now on your right. After several minutes, take a farm track curving downwards to your left, leaving the canal behind you. After a few metres, turn right off the track and cross a log footbridge over a stream. You emerge onto a tarred road. Turn left ; you are now walking along the chemin de Franquet. At the T- junction turn left into the chemin du Rieumort. A few metres on turn right into the chemin du Barrail. Continue on this road, ignoring the left turn at the bottom of the hill. (At the top of the rise, on your left, is an former chapel with a spire attached to a country house). At the crossroads cross over the busy D119. Continue on the C3 (the rue de la Plaine) towards Roquefort, 2 km away. After 1 km you reach the Roquefort village entry sign. At a crossroads with the motorway before you, go straight on and through the subway under the motorway. You are now walking on the rue de Lys. At the next crossroads go straight on. You emerge with the town centre directly ahead. Turn left immediately and at the traffic lights cross at the pedestrian crossing. Turn right, passing the café bar and the information point, then continue to skirt the centre of town and head out towards the Roquefort château and Estillac.

You have arrived at the end of the Cluniac footpath of Guyenne - Gascogne.
